Push notification settings [BETA]

Push notifications allow you to receive important updates directly to your desktop web browser or mobile device

The 'My profile' page allows you to edit your user information stored on the system. Click the links on the right side of the page to change your name, email, and password.

Push notification settings [BETA]

Push notifications allow you to receive important updates directly to your desktop web browser or mobile device (when SJAG Events is added to your home screen) keeping you up to date. To allow push notifications, press the button below and then press accept on the pop-up.

Push notifications [BETA]

Push notifications allow SJAG Events to deliver important updates to you directly, instead of through your email inbox, when the site is used on a desktop web browser or is added to the home screen on mobile. Navigate to the 'My profile' page and click the 'Subscribe' button, you may see another prompt after this confirming that you would like to receive push notifications.

Note: push notifications are an experimental feature and can be unreliable - especially on iOS. Check your inbox frequently or the notification page on SJAG events for up-to-date messages.
